Welcome to the 2019 Medical Doorway Open Day.

Medical Doorway is the central application portal for a consortium of European medical universities and faculties. Every year we help hundreds of students from all over the world successfully apply and enrol onto medical, dental and veterinary programmes at a range of prestigious universities.

Our role is to be your strategic partner helping you to find the university and course to achieve your career aspirations. We are appointed by our partner universities to support you in every step of the journey from application to enrolment. This includes running exams & selection panels, pre-departure support and assistance with all aspects of your arrival and enrolment. This is delivered through the exceptional student support from Medical Doorway together with our partner universities, many of which are amongst the most popular medical faculties in continental Europe.

Medical Doorway is responsible for hosting selection panels in the United Kingdom. This means students do not have to travel to Europe for multiple exams and/or interviews.

The Open Day here at The Royal Society of Medicine is truly unique. Here you will have the chance to meet multiple universities, current students, graduates even an NHS consultant surgeon.

Once you have met the universities and listened to some of the amazing seminars, come and chat with the Medical Doorway team. We can help you find the best university fit for your future as a doctor, dentist or veterinarian.

University of Rijeka (Croatia)

Medical Doorway are here to help you secure a place at The University of Rijeka in beautiful Croatia. The Faculty of Medicine at The University of Rijeka has been educating medical professionals since 1955. Over the past seventy years it has grown to be one of the most innovative centres of medical education in Croatia.

Rijeka is a small university city with a population of just over one hundred and twenty thousand people. Rijeka is conveniently located in North West Croatia and serviced by its own airport. It is also home to the largest sea port in Croatia and within easy reach of the port city of Pula. From Pula you can catch a ferry to the Italian city of Venice.

The Faculty of Medicine at the University of Rijeka is proud of its innovative approach to education. This innovation is also evident in the application and selection of students. Whilst many students will be able to sit the entrance exam, graduates and those with a good BMAT score can gain direct admission without entrance examination.

The medicine programme is one of the most affordable options for aspiring medical students. The fees are €9000 per year. These fees can be paid in full or in three instalments of €3000. This along with the low living costs make the University of Rijeka an affordable option for students who aspire to study medicine in Europe but are not willing to compromise on quality. Graduates from Rijeka are eligible to apply for full registration with the GMC in the UK.

Queen Mary University of London (Malta)

This is a new partnership between the university and the Maltese government meaning you get the unique opportunity to study a world class UK curriculum on the beautiful Maltese islands in the south of the Mediterranean sea.

The programme is taught by Barts and The London School of Medicine and Dentistry which is a faculty of Queen Mary University. Considered one of the most prestigious medical programmes from the UK, this programme means you get the chance to qualify from a Russell Group university and even commence your career as a FY 1 and FY 2 doctor in Malta. As this is a UK curriculum, and the award is from a UK university, the programme is approved directly by the General Medical Council.

Applications for this programme are made outside of UCAS so this can effectively be a fifth application for a UK medical programme, giving you one extra chance to secure your place on a Medicine programme in one of the world's top 100 universities.

The programme is fully taught and assessed in English. As English is an official language of Malta there is no requirement to learning another language while you are studying toward your medical career. This feature sets this programme apart from other English language programmes delivered within the EU.
